Interviewed 12 April 2024

Abstract:

Daniel Lagacy is the director of music and liturgy coordinator for the Mary, Mother of God parish. He has worked at St. Ita for over 20 years and has continued his role into the merger. In this interview, we discussed his religious and musical career within the church, and how this has intersected with the Mary Mother of God merger. In addition, this interview gives an insight into community building within the church, and how the church's history has impacted the merger. This interview is roughly an hour and twenty minutes long. It took place in person in the St. Ita Rectory. "The interview took place as part of the Gathering Places project at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. For more information, see <https://uwm.edu/gatheringplaces>."
